The natural-style play space would open on to Blackheath itself and seek to activate a long-derelict piece of land currently managed by Glendale. The 900 sqm proposed for the play area is in front of derelict buildings (former sports changing rooms). There are no outdoor play facilities in the ward, the provision of a play space in the suggested location would impact carers and young children. Usage of the proposed play area would, be local and provide specific benefit to the ward: access would be pedestrian, rather than by car or public transport.

The proposal aims to deliver on ward priorities for 'transport and streets' and 'community safety'. By allowing tree planting (not currently possible because of parked cars), the plan will enhance the borough's plans for 'Open/Green Spaces and nature'. As one of the few points of pedestrian passage under the railway dividing Hither Green, Ennersdale Road is a vital route connecting Hither Green West with Lee Green/Staplehurst shops. The adjustment to parking will directly benefit thousands of local residents in Lewisham Central and make Ennersdale an infrastructural asset, encouraging active travel, and contributing to Lewisham's goal of creating more '15-minute neighbourhoods'.

The project seeks to make Hatcham and the area surrounding it to be a more open and pleasant place to live for all residents, with a special focus on disabled residents, cyclists and pedestrians through three main aims <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Making Cold Blow Lane Tunnel path - a narrow yet major connecting road used by thousands of Hatcham residents every year - safer for pedestrians and cyclists. 2. Improving the entrance of Harts Lane and two other fly tipping hot spots, include lowered pavements for cyclists or wheelchair users, cycle storage. 3. More street trees for Hatcham. Colleagues from Highways Team have fed back that making the tunnel one-way does have the potential to increase speeds due to there being no oncoming traffic. The proposal would need wider assessment of the impact on traffic across the area and therefore this needs more consideration. The proposed site for planters and bike hangers is at the junction with A2 requires TfL involvement. Network Rail may own the tunnel, therefore would need to be engaged for some parts of the project. Funding for trees is subject to suitability of street scape.
