The full motion then reads:

“Lewisham Council believes that co-operatives play a vital role both in our borough and across the UK in strengthening communities and giving members a say in how their businesses and organizations are run. Almost 17.5 million people own the UK's cooperatives and co-operatives contribute £34.1 billion a year to the UK economy.

“The Council salutes the recent Co-operative Fortnight and takes the opportunity to welcome the work done by all cooperatives in the borough including Phoenix Community Housing which is to be congratulated for being recognized as an Investor in People, for being a London Living Wage employer, for being nominated as a Top Ten Landlord in the 24housing magazine awards and also winning the award for the UK's best landlord for tenant involvement in the UK Housing Awards 2017.

“We also commend Lewisham Plus Credit Union which celebrates its 25th anniversary this year. We note that in its first year it granted 32 loans, achieved 100 members and savings of over £20,000. By 2016 the Credit Union had over 10,000 adult members, over 1500 junior members, had granted over 5,000 loans and achieved savings approaching nearly £5m pounds.
